Abstract

Several approaches for the search for H->WW->emu including cut-based, multivariate and multi-dimensional fit methods are presented. Results are presented and compared with ATLAS results. Possibilities for further studies are discussed.